

The ice cream truck event was another fun time in the community. We were fortunate that the rain waited and the temperature was lower. Of course, the best part was the hugs and conversations!

Now we move forward to the Senior Luncheon. Enclosed is the event information for all that confirmed attending. I am so excited to see you all there.

The day before this favored event is the first day of a new school year. This means the return of school buses and children waiting. Let's be cautious going through the community so our kids can have a safe opportunity to learn.

"Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world." - Nelson Mandela
