Yay, September is here! Two of my favorite things are happening this month. The first day of Fall (my favorite season) is recognized. While it may not feel like it that day, we all know the cooler weather, and all that it brings, is coming. That is enough for me.

Another favorite day of mine is the Cato Senior Luncheon. I am very much looking forward to socializing with you all. Selena and I are working hard to prepare an event that is entertaining and informative while you enjoy a great meal. If you haven't secured your seat at the table, please contact the office to discuss.

For those of you that are younger and still showing up to work, you are celebrated as well with Labor Day. This day of recognition for the labor force has been observed since 1894. Our country appreciates everyone that does their part, no matter how small the job may be thought of, to keep our society in operation.

Senior Luncheon Update

September 28th at 1:30

Belmont Parks and Recreation
(1315 E Catawba St)

Please contact the office if:

- you haven't confirmed attendance
- you haven't received and returned the request for menu selection
- you need transportation

There will be some interesting entertainment as well as great food and socializing.

Small acts, when multiplied by millions of people, can transform the world.
